MORTEX

This can ultimately reduce potential liabilities, saving money and time on rectifications. With the adoption of ISO9001:2008 principles, the mortar constituents are accurately measured and blended in a controlled environment to ensure consistent, homogeneous mortar is produced on-site.

MORTAR COLOUR

White mortar is currently the most popular colour. This is made by mixing light coloured cement and white sand and results in a traditional brick and mortar look. Mortar can be coloured by adding powdered or liquid pigments to the mortar as it is being mixed by the bricklayer. It can also be tinted to match the brick colour, giving a very even wall colour. Please confirm with your bricklayer what their mortar colouring offering is before making your final decision.

For more information on MORTEX, please visit: australbricks.com.au/NSW/product/Mortex

MORTAR FINISHES

There are four common mortar finishes and these various finishes result in different shadow lines on the wall. A raked finish will create a deep shadow in the mortar joint. This brings out the horizontal lines of the brickwork (and the vertical lines to a lesser extent) and it is the most common finish. Ironed and struck joints also create shadow lines, but these are much finer and more subtle. A flush joint doesn’t allow shadow lines to form at all, giving the wall a flatter, more unified look. Using a mortar colour to match the brick will take this a step further.
